I request the house change my pet onto the Wellness house food during his/her stay. I will bring enough of our current food labeled and separated for each feeding including 2 extra meals. I understand the house will slowly change the food as to not upset the digestive system of my pet. I choose the following house food selection.

My pet will eat the house selection Wellness®.

Wellness® house food selections: Chicken Lamb Fish Senior Puppy Weight Management

My pet has special feeding requirements (raw food, home made etc) and I have provided all ingredients with written instructions. I understand that an additional fee ($3 to $5) is charged for this service.

If my pet friend decides to be a finicky eater, is it okay to supplement these foods as enticement?
